Monday, November 3, 2014 5:30PM

CDM Caregiving Services invites you to an exclusive aviator's evening with internationally recognized U.S. Brigadier General Dan Cherry, Mr. Nguyen Hong My, who traveled from Hanoi for this event, and their two special guests. Hear their riveting, first hand story of significant aviation history and of their subsequent reconciliation. Told by pilots, for pilots and in the language of aviators, this conversational evening will be both informative and memorable.

My Enemy My Friend

On April 16, 1972 at 15,000 feet in the skies near Hanoi, North Vietnam, Major Dan Cherry first met Lieutenant Nguyen Hong My. In an intense five minute aerial battle, Dan shot down the MiG-21 piloted by Hong My. Major Cherry returned safely to his base, Lieutenant Hong My lived but was severely injured during the ejection. Both men returned to the cockpit to fly again. Thirty six years later, Dan Cherry and Hong My met face to face in Ho Chi Minh City (Saigon), Vietnam for the first time since that fateful day. (Excerpt from My Enemy My Friend, myenemymyfriend.com/thestory)
